Working Links

6 Newton Business Centre

Tel: 0114 2203692

Just seven years after its launch, Working Links has been named as one of the best companies to work for in The Sunday Times Top 100 Businesses.

Its team in Chapeltown, Sheffield, scooped a place in the dynamic league table, which is published annually recognises best practice in UK workplaces. Working Links was one of the elite organisations singled out for its commitment to its employees during a prestigious award ceremony in London.

Best Companies compiles The Sunday Times Best Companies To Work For list each year and the awards provide a benchmark for employee satisfaction. The aim of the accreditation is to promote employee welfare as a way to business success and reward good practice. The award, which is in its seventh year, recognises the very best small, mid sized and big companies to work for.

As a public-private-voluntary sector organisation, Working Links prides itself on its dedication to its workforce. It is a firm believer that employee satisfaction is essential as it carries out its work as a leading national provider of innovative welfare-to-work initiatives. To qualify for the award, a survey was carried out throughout the company nationwide to gauge employees' views and opinions. Working Links was placed 92nd in the national listings.

Brave BBUL staff skydive for Brake!

A team of 25 brave Balfour Beatty Utilities staff will be making a 10,000 foot tandem parachute jump this summer, all in the name of charity! The team are aiming to raise £10,000 for road safety charity Brake, when they take the big leap on 14 July 2007.

Brake is a national charity dedicated to preventing road death and injury, who also provide care for people who are bereaved or seriously injured in a road crash. Visit www.brake.org.uk for more information.

BBUL's partnership with the charity has helped raise awareness about the importance of road safety amongst staff and reduce the number of incidents, despite an increase in the number of company vehicles on the road.

So how can you help? All donations whether big or small will be gratefully received and go to a fantastic cause. If you would like to help the team reach their target, please visit:

And here is a bit of Girlie Wisdom!

Women over 50 don't have babies because they would put them down and forget where they put them.

My mind not only wanders, it sometimes leaves completely.

The best way to forget your troubles is to wear tight shoes.

The best thing about living in a small town is that when you don't know what you are doing, someone else does.

The older you get the harder it is to lose weight because by then, your body and your fat are really good friends.

Just when I was getting used to yesterday, along came today.

And finally

A friend of mind confused her Valium with her birth control pills,.....she has 14 kids, but doesn't really care!
